2. City of Los Angeles - General Background

The City of Los Angeles is the second most populous city in the United States with an estimated population of approximately 4 million persons. Los Angeles is the principal city of a metropolitan region stretching from the City of Ventura to the north, the City of San Clemente to the south, the City of San Bernardino to the east, and the Pacific Ocean to the west. The City's 470 square miles contain 11.5 percent of the area and 39.1 percent of the population of the County of Los Angeles.

As Executive Officer, the Mayor supervises the administrative process of the City and works with the Council in matters relating to legislation, budget and finance. As governing body of the City, the 15 member, full-time Council enacts ordinances, levies taxes, approves utility rates, authorizes contracts and public improvements, adopts zoning and other land use controls and provides the necessary resources for the budgetary departments and offices of the City.

Public services provided by the City's approximately 46,000 employees include: police, fire and paramedics, residential refuse collection and disposal, wastewater collection and treatment, street maintenance and other public works functions, enforcement of ordinances and statutes relating to building safety, public libraries, recreation and parks, community development, housing and aging services, planning, airports, harbor, power and water services, and convention center.

The City Administrative Officer is the chief financial advisor to the Mayor and Council, reporting directly to both. This Office assists the Mayor and Council in the preparation of the City budget, forecasts and manages revenue projections, manages the City's debt program, represents the City in the negotiation of all labor contracts, directs the development of work programs and standards and manages the City's risk management program.

The Risk Management team in the Office of the City Administrative Officer (CAO-Risk Management) manages the central risk management function for the City. CAO-Risk Management provides Citywide risk management services, including loss prevention and control, claims management and analysis, insurance and bonds compliance, insurance procurement, and small contractor insurance and bond programs. Learn more by going to the City’s Risk Management website at: <http://cao.lacity.org/risk/index.htm>.

3. Risk Financing / Claims Handling

The City is self-insured for workers’ compensation and most liability and property exposures. Most tort claims and losses are paid from the City’s operating budget. Multi-million dollar claims are paid through the use of judgment bonds. Commercial insurance is purchased only when it is legally required, contractually required or has been judged to be the most cost-effective way to transfer risk. Premiums for current property (structures and equipment), liability and fidelity coverages are approximately $2.2 million annually. Workers’ compensation is self-funded and administered by City staff and defended by in-house counsel. Insured property values exceed $5.0 billion.
